Dear Nili! Hope everything is fine with you and Ehud. Flu, I trust, is over. I promised to Ehid to check with Sergei Tereshchenko about his talk in China about potential involvement of Ehud in projects in the RK. As it turned out, Ehud misunderstood Sergei because there is no need for additional efforts as far as projects of LR (Lustig) and corn seeds (Kushnir) are concerned. Both projecta are doing fine and Sergei mentioned them to illustrate successful examples. No need for additional funding or infusion of additional technology. Sergei thought that he delivered to Ehud a massage that he himself should find new projects in the RK which we can do together. For that reason Sergei thought that the ball, so to say, is on Ehud's side. Something was lost in translation of what Sergei thought he explained to Ehud. I took a liberty in explaining to Sergei that Ehud can not be expected to independently indicate what kind of specific projects he may get involved in the RK since he does not know what might be promising. Sergei said "Ah, now I get it". He promised to think about specific projects in agriculture and beyond and come back through me with concrete proposals about where he believes Ehud"s involvement (arranging funding or providing know-how) is desirable. Please, convey this to Ehud. Shall be in touch once Sergei gives me something specific. Cheers, shalom. BN

> Dear Nili! Thank you so much for your letter. Indeed, I totally recovered and am ready for new exploits. Sorry to hear that Ehud caught a flu. Hope he will forget about it ASAP. We with Alma enjoyed your company in our Astana home and feel somewhat relieved that we could reciprocate for your warm hospitality in Tel Aviv. I will be in touch as soon as Sergei Tereshchenko communicates to me how he sees Ehud' role in the projects in the RK. Best wishes from Alma. Cheers, shalom. Bolat N.
